Excerpt from: Memo for DTR, from [redacted] subject:
National Interdepartmental Seminar, dtd 12 June 1970

STAT

6. During the session, State's Task Force IV on Personnel Training conducted an evaluation of the NIS. In its report dated 10 June to the Under Secretary for Administration, Task Force IV recommended that the NIS be abolished and its functions, staff, and facilities be absorbed by a newly established Foreign Affairs Executive Training Center. At present, there is no indication of how the work of Task Force IV will relate to that of Task Force X, which has been evaluating the Foreign Service Institute, nor what action Under Secretary Macomber will take on the above recommendations. Furthermore, no one has as yet sounded out Under Secretary U. Alexis Johnson, who spoke briefly at this last session of the NIS and who considers himself to be the father of the Seminar.
